

At Riverside, we believe that great science occurs when ...

- Children are engaged with the content of their learning, encouraging them to be curious and creative learners
- Children are able to suggest their own questions to investigate
- Learning is practical and hands on wherever possible
- Children are given the opportunity to be independent investigators who can explore and make accidental discoveries
- Every lesson is purposeful, allowing pupils to understand the significance of what they are doing.